LAY LEADERSHIP

The Baptist principle of the priesthood of all believers embraces vital lay leadership. Immanuel provides opportunities for lay leadership through Christian education and participation in committees. The work of committees allows church members and committed nonmembers to serve effectively in carrying out the mission of the church by sharing their gifts and by both ministering to the church and by serving outside the church.

The Committee Manual emphasizes

- the leadership of the Holy Spirit in the work of the church and the importance of prayer
- an interactive and flexible process rather than a fixed formal structure
- functions rather than authority as the basis of organization
- internal coordination between committees and the ongoing work of the entire church
- compliance with the bylaws of the church
- the position of the church as the final authority regarding the role and function of all committees

Scripture is the basis for governing the church and has led to adopting

- a confession of faith
- a church covenant
- a vision statement
- a mission statement

The laws of the State of Tennessee require that as a religious corporation, the church must also have adopted

- a charter
- bylaws

SELECTION AND TENURE OF COMMITTEES AND COORDINATORS

Type

All church committees shall be classified as standing or special at the time they are presented to the church.

Membership

- Committee membership shall be nominated by the Committee on Committees and elected by the church. The emphasis for committee nomination shall be guided by the attempt to match committee assignments with the gifts of the members; involve a broad cross-section of the church, including youth; and include new adult members of the church on an appropriate committee in the year after they join the church.
- One or more staff member(s) will serve as staff resource on each committee in order to facilitate coordination of committees, budgeting, and the church calendar. Staff resource members shall vote and participate in discussion, and may volunteer for assignments.

- Ex officio committee members are those who, by reason of their position as a church officer, staff member, coordinator of another committee, or other office, should participate in meetings of the committee, take assignments, and vote as regular committee members.

Term

Standing committees are elected at an annual meeting of the church held in April of each year.

- New terms begin on May 1 and end on April 30.
- Rotating committee members are elected for three-year terms, with the terms staggered in order to afford greater continuity.
- Following the completion of a full three-year term on a rotating committee, a person is not eligible to serve on the same committee for at least one year.

Resignations

Committee members must notify the committee coordinator and the Committee on Committees if they are unable to complete their terms of committee service. The Committee on Committees will fill vacancies according to the remaining amount of time for the vacated position.

Coordinators and Co-coordinators

Each committee shall have a coordinator who is a member of the church. The duties include

- organizing assignments
- developing special work groups
- seeing that the work of the committee is carried out in a timely manner
- calling and coordinating committee meetings; contacting the church office to reserve a room; and requesting a special room arrangement (see Work Request/Repairs Needed, page 14)
- coordinating the work of the committee with the other committees and with other church organizations and submitting appropriate reports and other communications (see Reports, page 4)
- directing the committee to establish a budget (see Purchase and Budget Requests, page 4 and Church Budget Request, page 13)

Other Committee Positions

Each committee may elect or may authorize the committee coordinator to appoint

- a reporter to take notes at meetings and to prepare committee reports; this task may rotate within the committee
- coordinators for work groups within the committee
- other positions as the committee may need to carry out the work of the committee

Special Committees

Special committees may be designated by the church for specific purposes not covered by other committees. In such case, the Deacon Body, Church Council, committees or Committee on Committees may ask the church to establish the times for the committee to report; to designate resources, including funds, for the work of the committee; or to refer the nomination of the members and the coordinator to the Committee on Committees.

MEETINGS, RECOMMENDATIONS, REPORTS, AND REQUESTS

Committee Meetings

- Organizational meetings shall be held to plan the work of the committee, make assignments, designate work groups, and take any other steps to organize and implement the committee's work.
- The work of the committee will help members determine how often to meet.
- New programs, processes, and procedures shall be recommended to the Deacon Body, Church Council and church for approval before implementation.

Recommendations

- The church requires that matters relating to finances, facilities, and personnel be taken to the Stewardship Committee and to the Deacon Body for review and recommendations before consideration by the church.
- As a matter of prudence, any significant committee proposal should generally be submitted to the Deacon Body for review and recommendations.
- Committee recommendations and proposals related to church programs should generally be submitted to the Church Council.
- Recommendations and proposals affecting other church organizations should be submitted to those organizations for review before being presented to the church.
- Any committee or any member has the right to bring any matter before the church.

Reports

- Meeting notes shall be kept for each meeting. These can be shared with new members, coordinators, and the church office.
- Each committee shall file a written annual report to the church, briefly describing the accomplishments, the work that could or should be carried over into the upcoming year, and requests and recommendations as may be deemed appropriate. Such annual reports shall be filed in the church office by April 30 of each year for distribution at the annual meeting of the church in May.
- Committees may make such other reports and recommendations as requested by the church or as and when the committee thinks appropriate.

Purchase and Budget Requests

- All committees shall abide by the policies and procedures for the requesting and purchase of supplies, equipment, and other expenditures, as adopted by the church. After the annual church budget is approved, committees may act within their authority to spend requested and approved funds.
- The Stewardship Committee is responsible for general oversight of expenditures of the budget and shall inform committees when the budget funds are in shortfall in order to halt any unnecessary spending.
- Any standing committee desiring to recommend or request the expenditure of budgeted funds shall submit such recommendations to the church office by the date established for inclusion in the proposed annual budget submitted to the Stewardship Committee.

Coordination of Committee Activities

- The pastor and the church staff are primarily responsible for the coordination of all church activities.
- The coordination of committee activities depends on the awareness of each committee of the work of the church as a whole and of the role and function of the committee within the whole.
- If any committee is unsure whether a particular matter falls within its purview, the pastor, Polity and the Procedures Committee or Committee on Committees should be consulted.

CHURCH COUNCIL

- The Church Council, comprised of major committee coordinators with budgetary oversight and responsibilities, along with the Stewardship Committee and Personnel Committee Coordinators, form the Budget Planning Council.
- The Council will meet as needed to serve in an advisory capacity as requested by committees and individuals to present new projects and undertakings.
- The Council is responsible for making recommendations annually in February to Belmont University and the Southern Baptist Foundation for the administration of the Floyd Martin Scholarship and the Friendship Scholarship.
- Membership shall be comprised of the pastor, serving as coordinator, staff resource person(s) with responsibilities related to agenda items; the coordinator(s) of the following committees/ministry: Building and Grounds, Mission and Ministry, Outreach and Welcome, Preschool and Children, Senior Adults, Stewardship, Worship, and Youth; and a member representing the Deacon Body.

BUDGET PLANNING COUNCIL

- The Budget Planning Council is composed of the Church Council, the Stewardship Committee, and the Personnel Committee Coordinator.
- The Council reviews budget requests and presents a budget to the congregation for their vote. The final vote on the budget is ultimately found in the offering plate week by week as the church meets the outline of planned spending for the year.
- The Council may also develop ideas for budget and stewardship awareness and assist the Stewardship Committee as requested in communicating the same to the congregation through stewardship or budget fairs or education processes.

STANDING COMMITTEES

Buildings and Grounds

Functions:

- i. Be responsible for the acquisition, care, maintenance, and repair of all tangible property owned by the church, including buildings, furniture, furnishings, equipment, paving, and grounds, but excluding any motor vehicles;

- ii. In conjunction with the church staff, keep an up-to-date written inventory of all furniture, furnishings, and equipment that are not fixtures; and document the receipt of gifts of tangible property;
- iii. In conjunction with the church staff, be responsible for adequately insuring the church and its properties (except motor vehicles) against damage and liability;
- iv. Develop and publish written policies for the use and security of church property (except motor vehicles), and respond to any request for use of church property that is not in conformity with, or is not contemplated in, a written policy; any published policy is subject to being amended or vetoed by the church at a business meeting; any decision of the committee that is outside or contrary to a published policy is subject to being revised by the church at a business meeting;
- v. Be generally responsible for addressing any questions or issues relating to the church's tangible property (except motor vehicles) or the safety of the congregation; and
- vi. As needed, recruit congregation members (a) to participate in the repair, maintenance and clean-up of the church's property, including coordinating requests from members and groups to perform specific projects, and (b) for any other needs the committee may have.

Membership: This committee has four non-rotating members with expertise in construction, design, and/or horticulture and three to seven rotating members. The pastor serves as the staff resource member.
